By default, I see only "next" button in the pagination list. I want to disable fetching the count, but still want the pagination. How can I do it? A: From the library site: Hint: There is an option (default), and a setting (application specific), how many results should be fetched by default. Using the default value is recommended, the setting is only there to enable development with large documents, to get around memory limitations on some platforms. In your options JSON, you can specify a value for "page_count" that is how many results to fetch by default. For example, if you have 6,200 items in the library, set "page_count": 6200 You will be able to paginate through a total of 100, but the "next" button won't show until you go to page #6 (in this case). The present invention relates to the gasification of refractory materials. In particular, the present invention relates to the gasification of refractory materials in a gasification reactor to produce a carbonaceous product. A wide variety of refractory materials, e.g., refractory metal oxides, can be converted to a carbonaceous product in a gasification reactor. In particular, silica, alumina, silica-alumina, and calcium aluminate are converted to a carbonaceous product, e.g., gas and/or liquid hydrocarbons, in a fluid bed gasification reactor. Chalk agglomerates also can be converted to a carbonaceous product in a gasification reactor. Chalk agglomerates are formed from chalk having a calcium/carbon ratio greater than 1.0. A 6d1f23a050
